BIG HAT PROGRAM PRIVACY POLICY

Effective date: October 10, 2026 Last updated: October 10, 2026

1. Who We Are and What This Covers

This Privacy Policy explains how BIG Hat Entertainment LLC ("BIG Hat," "we," "us") handles information in connection with the BIG Hat Program, including its Trivia, Karaoke, Music Bingo and Story Generator tools (the "Program"). It applies to the hosts who install and run the Program ("you") and, where relevant, to the guests who take part in events you run. It works together with our Terms and Conditions.

2. The Short Version

- The Program runs on your computer, and most of your data stays there.
- We do not sell personal information.
- A few features use the internet. They are described in section 5.
- If you collect guest information at your events, you decide how it is used, and the rules in section 7 apply to you.

3. Information Stored on Your Computer

The Program saves the following on the computer where it is installed. We do not receive it unless you send it to us.

- Settings and folders: your preferences, the folder locations you choose for Bingo, Karaoke and filler music, venue names and your saved presentations.
- Event data: karaoke queues, song requests, team names, scores and winners. Scores are saved to files on your computer when you end a show.
- Your content: the logos, overlays, videos, pictures, song lists, questions and slides that you add.
- Keys you enter: if you save an API key (for example a YouTube key) in Karaoke Setup, it is stored on your computer.
- Temporary files: downloaded karaoke videos are kept in a temporary cache on your computer, and the oldest files are deleted automatically.

You are responsible for securing and backing up that computer. Deleting the Program's data folders removes this information.

4. Information Guests May Give You

During an event, guests may give you names, team names, song requests and similar details, for example through a QR code on their phone. That information goes to your Program, and you control it. We do not use it for our own purposes.

5. When the Program Uses the Internet

Some features connect to outside services. When they do, those services receive technical information such as your IP address, and our Program does not control how they use it.

- YouTube. Karaoke searches and playback contact YouTube. Your search terms, the video you play and your IP address are visible to YouTube and are handled under YouTube's own policies. If the Program downloads a song, that request also goes to YouTube.
- Phone requests (online relay). To let guests' phones reach your computer through the QR code, the Program uses an online relay service. Song requests and the information in them pass through that service on their way to you. [Describe who runs the relay, what it stores and for how long. This has not been checked, so confirm it.]
- Updates. The Program may contact our release servers to check for and download new versions. Items the program communicates for updates: Current version and Released version available.
- Content you point it at. Any online address you load into the Program is a request to that service.

[If the Program collects any crash reports, analytics or usage data, describe it here. If it collects none, add: "The Program does not collect analytics or usage data about you."]

6. How We Use Information

To the extent we receive information from you, for example when you contact us or if you use an account with us, we use it to:

- provide, support and improve the Program;
- send you updates, notices and answers to your questions;
- keep the Program secure and prevent misuse;
- meet legal obligations.

7. Your Responsibilities as a Host

When you collect information from guests, you are responsible for how you collect and use it, including:

- telling guests what you collect and why, where the law requires it;
- getting any consent the law requires, especially for children;
- keeping the information secure and deleting it when you no longer need it;
- not using it for a purpose guests would not reasonably expect.

The Program is made for general audiences at venues. It is not directed at children under 13, and you should not ask children under 13 for personal information.

8. Sharing Information

We do not sell your personal information. We may share information we hold only:

- with service providers who help us run the Program, under obligations to protect it;
- when the law requires it, or to protect our rights, safety or property;
- in a sale, merger or reorganization of our business;
- with your permission.

9. How Long We Keep Information

Data on your computer stays there until you delete it. For information we hold, we keep it only as long as needed for the purposes in this Policy or as the law requires. [Add specific periods if you have them.]

10. Security

We take reasonable steps to protect information we hold. No system is completely secure, though. Because most data lives on your computer, please keep your operating system updated, use strong passwords, and protect any saved keys.

11. Your Choices and Rights

- On your computer: you can view, change or delete your data at any time, and you can uninstall the Program.
- Information we hold: contact us to ask to see, correct or delete it. Depending on where you live (for example California or the European Economic Area), you may have additional rights such as access, portability or objection, and we will respond as the law requires.

- Guests: a guest who wants their information removed should ask the host who ran the event. We can't see or delete data held on a host's computer.

12. International Use

If you use the Program outside the United States, information we hold may be processed in the United States or other countries whose privacy laws differ from yours.

13. Changes to This Policy

We may update this Policy. We will post the new version and change the "Last updated" date. If a change is significant, we will by email.
